“GALAXY4GAMERS TO LAUNCH NEXT GENERATION SOCIAL GAMING APPLICATION 1337PWN”

Los Angeles, CA – Galaxy4Gamers (G4G)’s competitive video game platform is partnering with the #1 gaming social network mobile application 1337pwn (aka Leet Pown), to create a new social gaming experience. The next generation of 1337pwn apps will reach across multiple platforms and match gamers of all age and skill ranges in casual and competitive advertiser sponsored events. The 1337pwn website, mobile apps and TV widgets will feature online skill-based single and multiplayer games, leagues, ladders, and tournaments, as well as advanced profile features, messaging and media functionality.

Galaxy4Gamers President Mike Casazza noted, “We’re impressed with 1337pwn and what they’ve accomplished with the mobile app. Adding casual and competitive games is a natural next step. The new 1337pwn will be more engaging, exciting and rewarding.”

Former CEO of 1337pwn, Det Ansinn, elaborates, “1337pwn.com has always been about extending the social aspect of the gaming experience and taking that part of your life with you, wherever you go. Connecting our popular iPhone/Android applications with Galaxy4Gamers brings with it exciting possibilities for our users extending their social experience with competitive play. It's a perfect union.”

Updates to 1337pwn.com and the existing mobile apps will launch this fall.

About Galaxy4Gamers and 1337pwn:

Galaxy4Gamers(G4G), is a leading video game social network and tournament destination with skill-based competitions for cash and prizes across all video game platforms. Founded in 2009, G4G features a wide variety of social networking tools for both casual and competitive gamers – including player profiles and statistics, team organization, live broadcasting and celebrity challenges. G4G has hosted thousands of online events and features automated score reporting, a loyalty reward system, secure payment processing, monthly membership options, player tracking, live streaming capabilities, advanced matchmaking algorithms, mobile apps and white-label solutions.

About 1337pwn:

1337pwn (aka Leet Pown) is the creator of several very popular XBOX Live mobile apps, including the #1 iNXes and 1337pwn apps on Apple and Android stores. The apps enable gamers to view what games their friends are playing as if they were at their console. Launched in 2009, 1337pwn also features widgets for Mac, Yahoo and set top boxes.
